Buying activity increased substantially this week, sparked by yet another curtailment announcement in Canadian SPF. Canfor's reduction of 200 MMBF thru July got markets off and running on Monday morning, with prices climbing in both SPF and DF. Futures saw it's strongest week in months with upward momentum each day. OSB and SYP did not enjoy price increases, but anyone who knows OSB knows that they will find a way to crash the party eventually. Congrats to the Blues for finally winning that elusive Stanley Cup!
