Construction activity remains relatively brisk across the country. California in particular has had a very active week. Commodity wood prices remain strong but there are signs that supply is loosening up. SYP mixed loads and wides are still difficult to source and are high priced, but straight loads of the narrows in SYP are surfacing more frequently. DF studs appear to be coming to a top. OSB is not as hot in the SE, MA, and Texas markets as it has been. Plywood remains on the upswing.
