PLEASE NOTE - We are making a change to our process of reporting market numbers. From this point forward, we will be posting delivered numbers into each region. You will see higher than normal increases today due to the addition of freight to the markets.

The lumber market this week was a muddled picture, with SYP continuing to drop while SPF and futures climbed higher. Studs found a quick bottom and have firmed up. No change in the panel markets - You'll have more luck finding Easter eggs than you will finding prompt OSB.
