Lumber markets remain on the upswing as the calendar turns to October and the final quarter of 2021. SYP dimension saw solid demand and increases, as did SPF. DF dimension in both dry and green were not quite as strong, though both continue to trend up in price, too. Structural panels increases were lead again by SYP plywood, with fir riding closely behind. OSB was not as strong as plywood, though news that curtailments are on the OSB mill schedules for Q4 caught buyer's attention. Supply constraints on non-commodity items continue to plague the industry.
