Another relatively quiet week on the lumber and panel fronts. SYP dimension and SYP plywood saw some momentum, but not much to get excited about. Housing starts came out showing a boost in single family starts for November, a bit of a surprise. Multifamily starts remain cool. YOY multifamily starts are off more than 30%. Most mills and secondaries are now into holiday mode as we end the week prior to Christmas. Next week will be a short week with many businesses thinly staffed. Be safe and enjoy time with your loved ones this weekend - even you Raider fans if you are considered loved by anyone. Merry Christmas!
